Data Protection Policy

Introduction

This policy sets out the River Learning Trust's commitment to the lawful and fair handling of personal data in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998.

The Data Protection Act 1998 ("the Act") regulates the holding and processing of personal data - that is information relating to living individuals, which is held either on the computer or in some cases in manual form. The Act also gives rights to individuals whose personal information is held by organisations.

The Trust needs to collect and use personal information in order to carry out its functions effectively. Information can be held concerning its current, past and prospective students, employees, suppliers, service users, and others with whom the Trust communicates.

The Trust and in some circumstances its individual employees could face prosecution for failure to handle personal data in accordance with the Act.

POLICY STATEMENT

Any personal data which the Trust collects, records or uses in any way whether it is held on paper, computer or other media will be subject to appropriate safeguards to ensure that the Trust complies with the Act.

The Trust fully endorses and adheres to the eight Data Protection Principles which are set out in the Act and summarised below:

Personal data shall be:

1. fairly and lawfully processed
2. processed for specified and lawful purposes and not in any other way which would be incompatible with those purposes
3. adequate, relevant and not excessive
4. accurate and kept up to date

6. processed in line with the data subject's rights

FURTHER INFORMATION

The Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) is the independent authority set up to monitor compliance with the Act. It also issues guidance and good practice notes. The ICO's website address is <http://www.ico.org.uk/>

The ICO can consider complaints about an organisation's failure to comply with the Act following the initial reply from that organisation. Where appropriate, the River Learning Trust will consider complaints using the individual school's Complaints Procedure, however it may refer the complainant directly to the ICO.
